I AM...

A Denver based filmmaker and Los Angeles ex-pat with a passion for horror and deep love of all things beautifully bizarre. I write, direct, edit and produce original content. I have 10+ years working on the LA Film Scene, both on and off set. I also have a background in visual arts and love creating strong imagery to elevate interesting stories with dynamic characters. I recently finished writing my first feature film, LATEX, and am gearing up to produce it under my film production company, Wolf Luv Films.
